| Special Hobby SH72416 | 1:72 | Potez 25 B2 Polish Jupiter 'Against the Tide'. The Potez 25, produced in a wide variety of versions, fitted with several types of power plants, was one of the most widely used aeroplanes of the 1920s. The type was both exported abroad and built under licence. It could be seen flying almost world-wide, over Europe, Asia, to Africa or South America. The Potez 25 took part in many conflicts including the Second World War. One of ... | Aircraft kits (injection) | New Arrivals | £19.99 | 10+ |
| Special Hobby SH72431 | 1:72 | Supermarine Sea Otter Mk.I/ASR Mk.II 'Foreign Service. During WW2, both the RAF and FAA introduced into their service the amphibian Sea Otter biplane which was designed to replace the famous Walrus and also became the very last Supermarine-built biplane to see service with the RAF and FAA. The type was mainly used in the observation and sea rescue roles. In the post war years, it was also exported to several other countries. ... | Aircraft kits (injection) | New Arrivals | £22.50 | 10+ |
| Special Hobby SH72451 | 1:72 | SIAI-Marchetti SF-260 Duo Pack & Book. This kit is another one of the Duo Pack & Book format and brings, as is rather clear from the title of the series, two complete SF-260 models accompanied by a book on the subject prepared by the guys at H.M.H. Publication. The models offer both styles of the clear canopy, the standard one as well as the later, larger type, and also the underwing armament for the SF-260W version. The decal... | Aircraft kits (injection) | New Arrivals | £33.75 | 10+ |

The kit comes on five grey styrene sprues and one with clear parts. | Aircraft kits (injection) | New Arrivals | £17.99 | 0 |
| Special Hobby SH32009 | 1:32 | Re-released! Heinkel He-100D-1 'Propaganda Jager He 113' The Heinkel He 100D was flown in comparative flight tests against the Messerschmitt Bf 109 type in the competition for the standard Luftwaffe fighter. Eventually, the Bf 109 became the winner, but as the He 100D outperformed it in a couple of respects, it also reached the production, albeit giving only a very small batch of airframes. These were later used by German nazi... | Aircraft kits (injection) | New Arrivals | £40.50 | 10+ |
| Special Hobby SH72289 | 1:72 | Re-released! Dassault Mirage F.1CE/CH The Mirage F.1C came to being as a private venture of the French Dassault company. The French Air Force, or the Armae de laAir, had ordered two prototype aircraft named Mirage F.2 and Mirage F.3 which were to be equipped with a JTF10 engine. However, Dassault built on their own expenses yet another prototype, smaller than the two previous and fitted with an Atar 9K power plant.
